Do not be deceived! Banco de la República has no interference in private transactions

Do not be deceived! Banco de la República has no interference in private transactions
Banco de la República (the Central Bank of Colombia) informs citizens that it has no interference in private transactions and, therefore, no relationship with the platform that calls itself ZK Bank.

Banco de la República exercises central banking functions and, in accordance with the Constitution, adopts monetary policy measures it deems necessary to regulate the liquidity of the economy and facilitate the normal functioning of the payment systems, ensuring the stability of the value of the currency.

Considering the above, the central bank of Colombia calls on citizens not to be deceived by promises or supposed endorsements in which we are pointed out as intermediaries.

Fuente: https://www.banrep.gov.co/en/do-not-be-deceived-banco-republica-has-no-interference-private-transactions